This document provides you with information about the purpose and scope of the evaluation of the Intensive School Support (ISS) Evaluation – 2024 – 2027

Please read this information carefully as it describes the purpose of the evaluation, how the information collected will be used and your rights. If you have any questions regarding this evaluation, contact details are included below.

This evaluation has been approved by the Department of Education Research in Schools and Early Childhood Settings (RISEC) 25-12-798.

Who are we and who is this research for?

Synergistiq, an independent research consultancy, has been appointed by the Department of Education (the department) to undertake an evaluation of ISS. Through this evaluation, we are seeking to understand the effectiveness of ISS, how the initiative contributes to the department's education policy, and what may be able to be improved. The findings of this evaluation will inform the department's future decision-making and help the department understand more about improving the quality and consistency of leadership and teaching in schools.

What will I be asked to do?

You are being invited to take part in a 1-hour Interview. The interview will be conducted via Microsoft Teams. We will be asking questions about the ISS initiative's design and implementation, and its impact on schools as a change intervention.

You can choose to skip over any question or stop participating at any point.

What would my participation mean?

Your contribution will enable us to develop an understanding of the effectiveness and impact of ISS, and identify any areas for improvement.

Do I have to take part?

Your participation is voluntary. If you don't wish to participate, you don't have to. You can end your participation in the interview at any time by discontinuing your responses. Should you wish to clarify or redact anything following your interview, please let us know.

How will the information be used?

Information that you provide will be combined with and analysed along with data gathered from other stakeholders and a range of initiative data.

Our findings, as generated from the data gathered, will be presented in a report to the department. You will not be named or identifiable in the report. Should a quote you provide be used in a report, you will not be named and any identifiable information will be redacted.

The department may choose to use this report or sections from it in future documentation about ISS, including, but not limited to, budgetary bids or internal reports.

What will happen to information about me?

All information collected will be handled in accordance with Synergistiq's privacy policy, DE's privacy policy, the Privacy Data and Protection Act 2014 (Vic), the Health Records Act 2001 (Vic) and the Public Records Act 1973 (Vic). All project data will be destroyed after 7 years.

Notes/recordings of the interview will be kept on our secure server or in a locked office. Only the Synergistiq project team will have access to those files. If you agree to record the focus group, recording is done by Microsoft Teams which is also used to produce a transcript, which is reviewed in detail by the researcher. All data stored by Microsoft is stored on our own secure server in Australia.
